To The Owner

A. When to Use This Form

1. This form is to be used to compute the Maximum Base Rent and Maximum Collectible Rent for a rent controlled apartment where there have been no adjustments (increases or decreases) to the Maximum Base Rent other than the Standardized Increase Factor. If an apartment has had rent adjustments, Notice Form RN-26-Long Form should be used to properly reflect the adjustments in the Maximum Base Rent.
2. If Notice Form RN-26-Long Form was used to calculate previous MBRs, Notice Form RN-26-Long Form must be used to calculate the 2022-23 MBR.

This rent increase is not collectible from any tenant who has a Division of Housing and Community Renewal (DHCR) rent reduction order currently in effect for failure to provide or maintain an essential service as defined in 9 NYCRR 2202.3(b)(2). The increase is only collectible as of the first rent payment date after the effective date of a rent restoration order issued by DHCR finding all such services to have been restored.

B. How To Use This Form

3. The owner must complete and sign a copy of this Notice and serve it upon the tenant of the subject apartment. A Master Building Rent Schedule (RMB-2022) listing the Maximum Base Rent and the Maximum Collectible Rent for all rent controlled housing accommodations in the subject building must be completed by the owner and submitted to DHCR within 60 days of the issuance of the 2022-23 Order of Eligibility or Computed Order of Eligibility.
4. If 2020-21 MBR increases were granted for subject building, start computation of the 2022 Maximum Base Rent on Part A, Line 1.

2. Challenges to the MBR Order must be filed at Gertz Plaza or any Borough Rent Office on challenge form RA-94 MBR. Challenges should be specific and should relate to lawful requirements, such as those related to certification and/or to whether the effective date of the order was correct. A tenant's challenge must be filed within thirty-five (35) days after receiving from the owner a copy of this Notice of Increase (Form RN-26S). Any party aggrieved by the challenge determination may file a Petition for Administrative Review (PAR) using Form RAR-2 within thirty-five (35) days of the challenge determination issue date.
3. Any appropriate retroactive increase in rent under the 2022-23 Order of Eligibility shall be paid in installments equal to the number of months between the effective date of the Order of Eligibility and your next rent payment date. At your option you may pay the entire retroactive amount in a lump sum.

Part C: Affirmation

I, the undersigned, affirm under penalties provided by law, that the computations and statements made on this form, are true and correct to the best of my knowledge and belief or are based on orders received from the Office of Rent Administration, and that I am maintaining and will continue to maintain all essential services furnished or required to be furnished to the subject housing accommodation.

This calculation adjusts the 2022 Maximum Base Rent (MBR) to reflect a labor component as of January 1, 2022 appropriate to the actual cost level for this building. This method avoids duplicating the average increases in labor costs over the last two years as they are already included in the overall Standardized Increase Factor.

Instructions

- a. This page is to be completed only if the latest Owner's Application For Increase-Maximum Rent-Labor Cost Adjustment (Section 2202.11) was filed with the Division of Housing & Community Renewal in 2020 or 2021 and a Master Order Increasing Maximum Rent (RO-33.8) was issued to the owner prior to January 1, 2022. If the latest Labor Cost Adjustment Application was filed prior to 2020, do not file this page because the 2022 Standardized Increase Factor modifies the prior MBR Modification for Labor.
- b. This page is not to be completed if an Order denying the Labor Cost Adjustment was issued.
- c. A completed copy of this form must be served on the tenant along with Notice Form RN-26-Long Form.
- d. A completed copy of this form along with the 2022 MBR Master Building Rent Schedule must be filed with the MBR Section within 60 days of the issuance date of the Order of Eligibility.

Calculation Section

The calculations below should reflect the data and information from the latest Owner's Application For Increase-Maximum Rent-Labor Cost Adjustment (Section 2202.11) filed during 2020 or 2021 or any revisions resulting from administrative review (PAR) or audit review.

Part A

This Long Form is used to compute the Maximum Base Rent (MBR) for an apartment requiring the following MBR adjustments:

Owner paid for gas and/or electricity
 Rent adjustments after August 1, 1970 (Example: Major Capital Improvements, new equipment, etc.)

If none of these adjustments apply, use Notice Form RN-26S (Short Form).

If the Long Form was previously used to calculate adjustments to MBRs, you must use this form to calculate the 2022-23 MBR. If the 2022-23 MBR Order of Eligibility was effective before January 1, 2023, you should use form RN-26S to calculate adjusted MBRs and Maximum Collectible Rents (MCRs) effective January 1, 2023.

Any person holding a currently valid Senior Citizen Rent Increase Exemption Order (SCRIE) or a Disability Rent Increase Exemption Order (DRIE) is not required to pay any portion of the rent increase indicated above which causes the monthly rent to exceed one-third of the tenant's monthly disposable income. A currently valid Rent Increase Exemption Order is renewed automatically for six months, during which time the tenant must have completed and filed a Renewal Application with the New York City Department of Finance.

Senior citizens including Supplemental Security Income (SSI) recipients, 62 or older and disabled tenants 18 or older with an aggregate household net disposable income of $50,000 or less, who do not have rent increase exemption orders may be eligible for an exemption. Contact the NYC Department of Finance at 311 for further information.
